Art for All: The Swedish Experience in Mid-America

July 21, 2022 - February 19, 2023

Philadelphia, PA- The American Swedish Historical Museum is proud to present Art for All: The Swedish Experience in Mid-America, an exhibition of paintings and sculptures by Swedish-American artists of the late-19th and early-20th centuries. This colorful and emotive Impressionist art reflects its own time, interprets nature and landscape, and is independent of artificial conventions while keeping Swedish folk traditions alive.

This exhibition features many Swedish artists who studied and absorbed the democratic philosophies of "art for all," which were espoused by Anders Zorn and the Artist's League. These young artists immigrated to America to forge new career paths. "Art for all" became a catchphrase in Kansas by the 1930s, stemming from efforts of local artists to offer affordable paintings and prints so that every citizen could have original art in their own homes. Come and explore the significant impact these artists left on their communities and American art!
