– FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE –

The American Swedish Historical Museum (ASHM) welcomes families back to learn and play!
September 2021

Philadelphia, PA- ASHM is excited to welcome families back to the galleries through the revived toddler time program and a new family gallery guide. An updated family guide will debut in September for families to explore the galleries together and do activities. Families will follow Pippi Longstocking through the museum and engage with objects and artifacts along the way. Stop by with your family to check it out today!

Toddler Time Returns

Toddler Time is our monthly program specially designed for children ages 2-5 years old with their grown-up. Taking place on the third Tuesday of every month, each session helps young minds grow through interactive stories, hands-on activities, engaging museum mini-tours, and social interaction.

Our first Toddler Time, focused on the Dala horse, will be on September 21st at 10:30 am. Children who visit the museum love to see our larger-than-life wooden Dala horse sculpture. During the program, children will learn why the Dala horse is an iconic symbol of Sweden. We will read “A Ride on the Red Mare’s Back” by Ursula K. Le Guin, go on a Dala horse hunt through the galleries, and play games to build counting and language skills. To celebrate the program’s return, we will have pony rides with A& P Petting Zoo. Don’t miss this magical adventure! This program is free for members and $5 for non-members. Please visit our website to register. www.americanswedish.org

The American Swedish Historical Museum is located in scenic FDR Park at 1900 Pattison Avenue in South Philadelphia near the Sports Complex. Plenty of free parking is available. For those taking public transportation, the Broad Street Subway’s AT&T/Pattison Avenue stop is within walking distance or SEPTA’s Route 17 (Naval Base) can bring you right to the Museum.
